

Ponzi speak Definitions

word	translation	definition	Ponzi speak
Achiever	Producer	Wage earner	One who pays for everything. Yes 'z' can!
Alert	Perky	Aware of schemes.	The one the presumptuous have to be careful with.
Benefits	Perks	Extras	The mother's milk of politics.
Bill of Rights	Permisson Papers	Allowances.	The limits of freedom set by the Perpetrators.
Campaigning	Pandering	Laying it on.	Convincing the voters that all will be lost unless they vote Ponzican.
Candidate	Peter Piper	Your savior.	Someone you must follow without question.
Capital	Pocket #3	Funds for investment.	A pool of money coming from that 3rd pocket which mostly comes from employers, but can always be simply printed.
Character	Persona	Perception.	What the elected want you to see.
Committee	Panels	Get-togethers, mostly in private but often on C-SPAN.
Compassion	Passion	Playing the part.	Attained at acting schools, viewing Main Stream Media or by interning on a used car lot.
Cooked	Percolated	Palatable.	Legislation made complicated beyond understanding with expert obfuscation.
Criminal	Persona non grata	Violator.	One who doesn't get away with 'pay to play' or 'go along to get along'.
Debate	Parley	Show time.	Participating according to conditions and rules preset by the 'Pipers' and Main Stream Media moguls.
Deserve	Preserve	Ultimate life-style.	All Peons should expect a check from the Ponzident because, by Ponzi Party definition, the "deserve" it.
Drug War	Prohibition	Peon Protection.	Ponzicans don't think y'all can decide what's good for you, so we'll keep y'all safe by making drink/drug prices too high and/or incarcerating y'all.
Drink	Punch	The 'P' word.	See 'Drug War'
Elected	Presumptuous	Incumbent.	Sometimes confused with 'encumber' meaning to impede or hinder, hamper, retard, but often the it's same thing.
Entitlements	Perks	Hand-outs.	See 'Deserve'.
Explanation	Picture	Smooth talkin'.	A lot of words, usually off topic and full of pie in the sky promises that can't be kept.
F's	Ph's	Alphabet substitute.	No explanation needed. It allows for more word choices.
Father	Pop	The Dad guy.	Any guy over 14 qualifies these days. The Ponzi Party knows who will pay for the off-spring.
Fight	Pounce	Punch first	The Ponzi Party believes using force is OK as long as you do it first.
Fine	Penalty	Payola	Peons' freedom lies in being able to cross the right palm.
Friend	Pal	The 'P' word.	Saves alphabet letters and shortens typing.

Fruit &amp; Vegetables	Produce	Pharm Phood.	Of course for your safety you won't be able to grow your own. Look at it like another government 'investment' for your benefit.
Fussy	Particular	Behavior control.	There is a huge number of permitting to require, regulations to enforce and laws to be passed, so much freedom, so little time.
Goal	Product	Needs to Define.	Who better can specify what Peons need and how to manage gross national products than our central planners?
Gone	Privacy	Your door open policy.	You can trust the Ponzi Party to only knock your door down if worried about resistance.
Grandfather	Pop-PoP	Pop's Pop.	Don't worry about him. He's learning to live with less and has no power anymore.
Informed	Perceptive	What you see is what you get.	The Ponzi Party will use all the tools designed by the two party system to keep y'all informed. Count on it.
Investor	Purveyor	It's our money now.	Voting for the Ponzi Party is a guarantee that you will never again have to decide how to spend your income.
Issue	Point	Principle.	Whatever is in the Ponzi Party's best interest will be the defining principle used for governance.
Jaunty	Perky	Show of confidence.	Perceived attitude is key to everyone's support.
Legislators	Perpetrators	Politically expedient.	The primary purpose of governance is to maintain power and control of all things. So, what do you expect?
Liar	Phoney	Misunderstood.	If in conflict with the truth it will only be an 'unintended consequence' (when caught).
Lobby	Pressure	Payola	As my Dad used to say, "That's the price of freedom". Corporate welfare is just being fair to the taxpayer, isn't it?
Mostly	Pretty	The 'P' word.	Other substitutions: close, almost, for the most part, sort of like.....
Negative Reaction	Pouting	Putting on a face of disapproval.	See 'Compassion'.
News	Press	Purified bias.	The Ponzi Party will use the established network of willing conspirators to spoon feed the public as it has been done every regime.
Occupation	Pepper Picker	Producer	Proletariat Producers Pay Ponzi's Politicians
Opposing	Persevere	Fail Safe	Ponzi Party Politicians can't fail. They will see to it that any opposition is vilified.
Party Color	Purple	Red and Blue mixed in equal parts
Party Drink	Pink Lemonade	Color requirement.	Just one of those 'principles'.
Party Fish	Periwinkle	sea snails	We'll get some environmentally safe pictures for logos.
Party Flower	Periwinkle	myrtle	Same promise as for the 'Party Fish'
Party Mascot	Pnk Poodle	Pet Preference	Couldn't find a cute purple creature.

Party Name	Ponzi Party	Ponzi Policy Personified	An eternal bottomless pit for redistribution of wealth from all earned income producers confiscated from all working classes, by force if necessary, by manipulating the economy or just printing more money.
Party Platform	PoP-PoP Principle	The Ponzi Party Platform comes from 'old English law' that said it (the law) is the Provider Of Provisions by Prerogative Of Purveyance. I kid you not. Look it up.
Party Slogan	Ploy	"Yes 'Z' Can!"	Fortunately for the Ponzi Party, unfortunately for the Peons, once in power there's no stopping us!
Peace Party	Party of P's	Now this doesn't prevent preemptive strikes, executive orders, one world government imposition and control of police actions, et al.
Politician	Promulgator	He/she who makes governance work.
POTUS	Panderer Of The Unwashed Seniors	The 'P' word.	It just seemed we needed a shot at the current scheme that befallen our seniors.
President	Ponzident	Other than sounding like a cavity preventer it has a certain ring to it.
Redistribution	PayPal Policy	Collect, keep a percentage, fund with or without mandates.
Refunds	Perks	Getting a little bit back of the money, with no interest, y'all could have used or invested for perks of your choice.
Responsible	Parent	Mom & Pop	The ones who spawn that used to be held accountable for their kids' behavior. Now, the Ponzi Party believes it can do it all.
Retaliation	Punitive	Pain & suffering.	In the true Ponzi tradition, huge settlements spreads the wealth around through higher prices. It's a tax alternative.
Rules	Policy	Preempting the Constitution	See 'Party Name'
Saver	Prudent	A good idea.	It became less and less profitable to save since the government realized it could get more votes by brow-beating the banks into low interest loan and the 'Prudent' lost incentive with low or no return on their savings.
Sharp	Pointed	The 'P' word.
Soda	Pop	Pepsi	One of the few choices left. I prefer diet lemon flavor, myself until a behavior law makes it too expensive or puts it on prohibition.

Solitary	Private	The 'P' word.	The Ponzi Party believes every bit a person's data is needed on record. After all, what have you got to hide. If you object your conscience must be bothering you, right?
Sorry	Pitiful	The 'P' word.
Specific	Particular	Focus on political advantage.	The Ponzi Party can't get to 'Particular' about specific details. It might be contrary to a constituent's beliefs. So, the broader approach is to be fuzzy yet be perceived as being helpful.
Speech	Palaver	Dialog without candor.	The political art-form of baffling babble that sounds like you know what you're talking about, spoken hastily to seem like there's not time for questions.
Stance	Position	All things to all people.	Another major political art-form practiced by Ponzi Party members to inform the public of their purity of purpose and good intentions toward all.
Tax	Purloin	Pry away workers' wages.	The primary sources of income for the Ponzi Party are tax payers and lobbyists. Lobbyists can negotiate what they get in return. Taxpayers get what the 'deserve'.
Tax Man	Pick Pocket	License to steal.	The tax man uses a two pronged approach to garnish income, wage withholding and taking a chunk of the profits from business. Of course, the latter is paid by the wage earner in the price of the goods which is trickle down taxation. Pretty slick, eh?
Temp Tax	Permanent Payola	A great myth.	The only thing temporary about any tax is its name otherwise its replacement takes its place.
Transparent	Pane	It's done with mirrors.	The Ponzi Party window cleaner is a low priority job, pays a lot but expects few results since the Peons trust us.
Trust Funds	Purloined Pay	Virtual Reality.	It all comes from the same sources so why not keep it with the rest of the loot?
Wars	Pillow-fights	Wishful thinking.	One proposal is to put all the 'leaders' in a coliseum with no weapons, let them fight and whoever wins gets to live. Well, the Ponzi Party won't go for that, so we'll simply bomb and blockade as always.
We The People	Peons	Y'all.	To minimize the threat of Peons affecting the current practice of governance, the Ponzi Party will follow what has been successful for the last century, i.e. keep them poor, ignorant, and defenseless.
Wish	Prefer	Slavery	So, the Ponzi Party will hasten to remove the impediments that stand in the way of the perfect one-party system by combining all being done by the red and blue (making purple). Freedom will give way to privilege and everything else will be replaced by perfect central planning. Our time has come.
